SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Love's Vagrant. North and South, East and West, I have rouned a weary while, But have found no restful bourne Like the garden of thy smile.

North and South and East and West I have strayed in errant wise, but have seen no guiding star Like the lovelight of thine eyes, North and South, East and West, I have watched the day's cellpse, But have won no precious meed Like the guerdon of thy lips.

North and South and East and West, Vagrant still I roam and roam, Hearkening the lonely night For thy voice to call me home. -Clinton Scollard, in Delineator, Westmoreland Dinner Dance.

Westmoreland Dinner Dance.

Delightful music, exquisite decorations and a brilliant assemblage of the smartest of the society set characterized the dinner-dince at the Westmoreland Club last evening, and made it an occasion long to be remembered in the social annals of Richmond.

The club parlors, which are unusually beautiful, with their fine old pictures and Colonial furniture, were made doubly attractive by their decorations of roses and palms, and were filled with handsomely gowned matrons, with the belies of sevently seasons and the debutantes of this year.

Year.

The music was inspiring to a degree, and the dinner was all that could be desired. Those who composed the receiving party were Mrs. Claude A. Swanson, Mrs. Joseph E. Willard, Mrs. Granville G. Valentine, Miss Lucy Buhring, of Philadelphin; Miss Mary Buford, Miss Mary Beirne and Miss Caroline Rennolds.

Mrs. Wortham's Tea.

Mrs. Coleman Wortham, of No. 421 East Franklin Street, was hostess at a beautiful tea yesterday afternoon from 5 to 7 o'clock.

Artistic grouping of palms, with the ad-dition of ferns, smilax and masses of plak roses, made the handsome parlors dition of ferns, smilax and masses of plak reses, made the handsome parlors and dining-room a scene of great beauty. The table decorations were very attractive, in the centre stood a large basket of plak roses, with a plak bow on the handle, while eight silver candelabra, with plak shades, were grouped around the fragrant centrepiece. Silver baskets, filled with plak conserves and candles, added to the effective display. Ropes of smilax extended from the chandelier to the corners of the table, and the punch bowl, which was presided over by Mrs. James T. Rutherfoord, Jr., and Miss Mary T. Williams, was also wreathed with the same delicate greenery.

The receiving party, commosed of Mrs. Wortham, gowned in plak crope de chine, Mrs. Moses D. Hore, wearing an elegant gown of plak silk tissue, and Mrs. Arthur P. Willner, in a charming creation of white messaline, stood in the front parlor against a massing of palms.

Those assisting in the dining-room were Mrs. Stuart Stringfellow, Mrs. Walter Herndon Miles, Misses Elizabeth Patterson, Helen Lathrop and Bessie Catila, Mrs. Worthatt proved a gracious hostess in her welcome of the four hundred or more guests who called.

Deep Run Hunt Meet.

Mrs. Swanson Present.

Mrs. Claude A. Swanson, who spent Ecceral days in Washington as the guest of Mrs. Arthur Wallace Duna, was among the guests at an elegant reception given Thursday afterneon by Mrs. John A. Logan in honor of Representative and Mrs. Lowden, of Illinois.

The Washington Post, in speaking of the entertainment, says:

The drawing rooms were fragrant with pink roses and azaleas, supplemented by quantities of palms and ferns, while the dining-room decorations were of pink carnations and asparagus vine.

Official society was largely represented in the many guests who called to enjoy the hospitality of this charming woman.

Mrs. Logan received in a handsome gown of black creps de chine, the bodice being trimmed in jet. Mrs. Tucker, Mrs. Logan's daughter, wore an effective black costume of embroidered creps imported from Japan.

Miss Elizabeth Logan, a niece, wore a pretty white lace gown and Mrs. Lowden, who is pleasantly remembered as Miss

The Lost Mistress

By ROBERT BROWNING.

Other selections from this author, his portrait, autograph and biographical sketch, have already been printed in this series.

All's over, then: does truth sound bitter As one at first believes? Hark! 'tis the sparrows' good-night twitter About your cottage eaves.

And the leaf-buds on the vine are woolly, I noticed that, to-day; 'One day more bursts them open fully: You know the red turns gray.

To-morrow we meet the same then, dearest? May I take your hand in mine?

Mere friends are we—well, friends the merest

Keep much that I resign:

For each glance of the eye so bright and black, Tho' I keep with heart's endeavor,— Your voice, when you wish the snowdrops back, Tho' it stay in my soul for ever!-

Yet I will but say what mere friends say, Or only a thought stronger; I will hold your hand but as long as all may, Or so very little longer!

Boy in Misery 12 Years—Eczema Spread Over Body in Rough Scales, Cracked, Inflamed, and Swollen-Case Pronounced Incurable, but Completely Cured by Two Sets of Cuticura Remedies.

HIS SKIN NOW FINE AND SMOOTH AS SILK

"I wish to inform you that your wonderful Cuticura has put a stop to twelve years of misery I passed with my son. As an infant I noticed on his body a red spot and treated same with different remedies for about five years, but when the spot began to get larger I put him under the care of doctors. Under their treatment the disease spread to four different parts of his body. The longer the doctors treated him the worse it grew. During the day it would get rough and form like scales. At night it would be cracked, inflamed, and badly swollen, with terrible burning and itching. When I think of his suffering, it nearly breaks my heart. His screams could be heard down-stairs. The suffering of my son made me full of misery. I had no ambition to work, to eat, nor could I sleep.

"One doctor told me that my son's eczema was incurable, and gave it up for a bad job. One evening I saw an article in the paper about the wonderful Cuticura and decided to give it a trial. "I tell you that Cuticura Ointment is worth its weight in gold, and when I had used the first box of Ointment there was a great improvement, and by the time I had used the second set of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent my child was cured. He is now twelve years old, and his skin is as fine and smoothas silk. Michael Steinman, 7. Sumner Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., April 16, 1905."

Richmond Executive Has Accepted Invitation to Address A. P. Hill Camp.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
PETERSBURG, VA., January II.—A young man named William Lee was shot in the face last night by some unknown party while walking along La Fayette Sirect on his way to his home. From the facts that Lee heard no report, and that the ball was not imbedded in the flesh, it is believed that an air rifle was the weapon used. No arrests have yet besa made. It is learned that the smallpox hospital on the western outskirts of the city has been robbed by thieves, who carried off a quantity of old clothing left there by patients.

It is understood that Mayor Cariton McCarthy, of Richmond, is to be one of the speakers before A. P. Hill Camp of Confederate Veterans on General Lee's birthday.

Confidence

Spectre of

and Dollars "Dollars are as sure to follow the right kind of confidence as day is to come after night," writes Lida Churchill. Your husband ought to read it. Its worth the price of any magazine to any man or to any woman dependent on a man.

Problems of Dress

You can solve them, most of them, with the aid of The Delineator. Take, for instance, the fitting of the Empire skirt or correct mourning garb. Both are made simple in the February Delineator. Or, are you a grandmother? There is a page for you alone.

The Magazine

For You If you have leisure and you wish to be entertained—if your pleasures are in the home, the household, the kitchen—or if dress is your chief concern—then it's "the magazine for you." Henry Hutt made the cover—it's a beauty.

Newspaper Tributes.

On the demise of the late Henry Clay Payne, a concern in New York gathered from the papers published throughout the United States 4.685 newspaper stories of the life and career of the deceased.

These items were carefully mounted on Irish linen leaves and bound in 6 volumes, 400 pages to the book. A cover of genuine seal was appropriately lettered in gold and the entire material, representing the work of many people for several months, has just been delivered to Mrs. Payne at Milwaukee.

Mr. Burrelle, who makes specialty of this unique method of preserving family history. also compiled four volumes containing the letters, telegrams and cards of condolence received by the family, all constituting a family heirloom that will be handed down to future genera-

This work is one of the sereral developments of the press clipping industry and Mr. Bur-relle has made a special study of the work he created several years ago.
